The district takes its name from the word Balari, which refers to goddess Durugamma who had manifested herself on the town. It was founded by Harihara, also known as Hakka, and his brother Bukka Raya. It is noted for its historical heritage, and for being celebrated for the capital of Vijayanagara kingdom at Hampi. The area, which was once the “City of Victory”, fell into political turmoil after the fall of Vijayanagara in 1565. The district was transferred to the erstwhile Mysore state from Madras state in 1953.

Erstwhile known as Belgaum, Belagavi is one of the oldest, strong, prominent and well cultured historical place nestling high in the Western Ghats. It has an enviable heritage and lies in the zone of cultural transition between Karnataka, Maharashtra and Goa with a known antiquity, clearly traceable to 2nd Century A.D. It is also known as Malnad or Rain Country and the vegetation here is verdant green throughout the year. It is located equidistant from Bengaluru and Mumbai.

Divided into 3 administrative divisions comprising of 11 talukas—Athani, Ballhongal, Belagavi, Chikkodi, Gokak, Hukkeri, Khanapur, Ramdurg, Raybag, Saundatti & Kittur

Second largest district in the State, as per 2011 Census population

Belagavi city houses the second legislative building in the State, where the Karnataka State Legislature meets once a year

Established trade centre for food grains, sugarcane, cotton, tobacco, oilseed and milk products

Important centre for manufacturing of heavy machine tools

Known as ‘Foundry hub’ of Karnataka
Economic Sanpshot

- Urbanisation in the district is 25% compared to 39% in the state.
- Belagavi devotes more than 30% of its land for cultivation, which makes agriculture as the major contributing sector, since more than 50% of the area is under forest cover.
- Emerging hub for storage/cold storage infrastructure with Export oriented units, Sugar industries, Raisin and Jaggery cluster in Chikkodi taluk.
- Foundry cluster is located in Belagavi.
- Workforce Participation Rate (WPR) of the district is 44%.

District Profile : Dakshina Kannada
"Dharwad" means a place of rest in a long travel or a small habitation. For centuries, Dharwad acted as a gateway between the Malenaadu (western mountains) and the Bayalu seeme (plains) and it became a resting place for travellers.

- Spread across 6 administrative divisions - Dharwad, Hubballi, Kalghatagi, Kundagol and Navalgund
- Dry farming is the backbone of the agricultural economy. Agriculture is even now labour-intensive enterprise
- Lies approximately about 800 mts above the sea level, which is why it enjoys a moderate and healthy climate. The district may be divided into 3 natural regions, viz., the Malnad, Semi-Malnad and Maidan
- Combining the twin cities; Hubli a commercial and industrial hub and Dharwad an academic and cultural hub and the HDMC is the second largest Municipal Corporation in Karnataka after Bangalore.

Ruled by various dynasties, important dynasties include Chalukyas, Rastrakutas, Vijayanagar, Adilshahi, Mysore kingdom and Peshawas of Pune. In 1962, the towns of Dharwad and Hubli were amalgamated into the Hubli Dharwad Municipal Corporation. In 1830, the southern Maratha country was brought under Regulation VII and the territories were formed into one Collectorate called Dharwad District or Zilla. Before trifurcation of the district into Gadag and Haveri, the district consisted of 17 talukas.

Ramanagara
...sericulture capital of the South
Introduction

► District carved out of the erstwhile Bangalore Rural district on 23 Aug 2007.
► Divided into 4 administrative divisions—Channapatna, Kanakapura, Ramanagara, Magadi
► Located approximately 50 km southwest of Bengaluru city
► Known for its silk production and has Asia’s second largest cocoon market, after Devanahalli (Bengaluru Rural)
► Bidadi Industrial Area houses manufacturing units of Toyota, Coca Cola and a 1,400 MW combined gas-based cycle power plant
► Famous for the huge rocky outcroppings: Savandurga, Ramadevarabetta, SRS betta and Thenginkalbetta.
► Arkavathi, Kanva, Kaveri, and Shimsha rivers pass through the district

Earlier known as ‘Closepet’ after Sir Barry Close, a British officer, the district was renamed as Ramanagara by the former Chief Minister, Sri Kengal Hanumanthaiah. It is the birthplace of Sri Kempegowda, architect, builder and mentor of the present Bengaluru city. It is known for its power plants, silk and cocoon production, and was the first district to have modern office buildings like in Bengaluru city. Ramanagara is also famous for its huge rocks. The famous hindi movie SHOLAY was shot in and around these hills and hence the name SHOLAY HILLS.

Tumakuru
... Land with primordial grandeur
Introduction

► One of the important district in Karnataka situated about 70 km to the north-west of Bengaluru.
► Divided into 10 Taluks – Tumakuru, Koratagere, Sira, Gubbi, Pavagada, Turuvekere, Kunigal, Madhugiri, Tiptur & Chikkanayakanahalli
► District carries substantial significance in history - Kingdom of great empires like Hoysala, Vijayanagara, Mughals and Marathas
► The district witnessed early stages of the railways system through construction of Bangalore City-Tumkur-Gubbi railway track in 1884
► Rich in Iron ore resources
► Place of renowned temples like – Siddhaganga Mutt, Gangadhareshwara temple, Siddhalingeswara temple, temple of Narasimha, Channarayana Durga, Devarayana Durga, Namadha Chilume etc.

Tumakuru...has magnificent temples, majestic forts and scenic splendor; each narrating stories of divine grace.

According to Hindu mythology, it is believed that Lord Rama and his wife Sita rested at this place on their way back from Lanka. Being a land of countryside dotted with beautiful and majestic temples, makes it .... Land with primordial grandeur.
